SEVEN JOBS TO LAUNCH RELIEF PLAN

$10,000 Will Be Spent Here on Harbor, Drainage

Seven major projects which form a part of the $350,000 relief program—including $10,000 to be spent on Redwood City improvements and $19,350 in Atherton—were approved by the board of supervisors today.

All projects are expected to begin within a week. The supervisors declared an "emergency" existed, and created a "relief bond fund" to which $40,000 was transferred from the Ocean Shore highway fund.

The supervisors rejected the proposal to form a drainage district in the Atherton-Las Lomitas area, but approved the expenditure of $19,350 on the work, which is expected to get underway next Monday.

Local projects approved include:

(1) Improvement of sanitary and drainage conditions, including the opening of waterways and removal of debris, $7,500;

(2) Improvement of harbor lands by leveling and draining, and repair of roads, $1,500;

(3) Improvement of recreational facilities by construction of tennis courts, etc., the city to provide necessary materials, $1,000.

Other Work Listed

Other county-wide projects include:

Atherton—Drainage and other projects to cost $13,000;

County of San Mateo—Clearing trails, building of roads, etc., in wooded areas, to be in charge of Fire Warden Bert Werder;

Belmont—Street improvement, to use 20 men;

San Carlos—Drainage system, to use 20 men;

San Mateo—(1) Completion of first nine holes of golf course, estimated 60 men for three weeks; (2) raising of levees from Coyote point south to Third avenue, 20 men for four weeks; (3) straightening El Camino Real from Third avenue to Crystal Springs road, 10 men for two weeks;

Burlingame—(1) Completion of nine-hole golf course as adjuct to San Mateo course, estimated 60 men for three weeks; (2) landscaping at Hoover school, 20 men for three months; (3) grading at Roosevelt school, six men for 30 days.

The projects were presented to the board by the citizens' relief committee through Sam D. Merk, chairman, and were approved on motion of Supervisor Rosalie M. Brown, San Mateo, seconded by Supervisor John W. Poole, Redwood City.

Fight Is Waged

Despite assurances that sufficient funds would be provided to clean out the drainage facilities in the Las Lomitas-Atherton area to bring relief this winter, Attorney Wayne Millington vainly sought to have the proposed district formed. He said if the funds should prove inadequate, the district then could complete the task.

Supervisor John W. Poole voiced disapproval of the district, however, approving the alternative plan suggested by County Surveyor James S. James and the citizens' committee.

This calls for Atherton to give $11,300 toward the project from the $17,802 allotted as its share of the $350,000 relief bonds, and for the county of San Mateo to give $8,050 from its share of $118,776.

Attorney Arthur Redington of Atherton and Mayor Joseph J. Donahoe of the same city voiced objection to the proposed district.

100 Jobs Available

The drainage plan calls for the cleaning of debris from the so-called Atherton creek from the Alameda de las Pulgas to the bay.

This ditch will also be widened and deepened, and it is expected that the flow of flood waters will be sufficiently increased to avoid flood conditions.

The project will require 100 men on a 5-day week for 10 weeks. James estimates. All funds will go toward labor.

The drainage plan is not completed by this proposal, but it is believed will be sufficiently carried out to give the necessary relief.

Wisecracking Defendant Is Found Guilty

Attempts by Superior Judge Franklin Swart to save Charles C. McKnight, 49, former San Francisco hospital orderly and hotel employe, from life imprisonment under the habitual criminal law, were met by "wisecracks" from the defendant after he had been found guilty on a robbery charge late Monday.

Judge Swart finally said to the prisoner: "I wish you wouldn't be quite so smart."

McKnight was convicted after the jury had been out about four and one-half minutes. It was his second trial, the first having also ended in a conviction, but the verdict was set aside when Mrs. Modesta Grabowski, San Mateo juror, said she had been coerced.

"I've had 22 years' experience with criminals, but I never saw a man act like you," Judge Swart told McKnight.

Wilson J. Dowrick and John H. Dowrick, McKnight's asserted companions on the holdup September 15 of Martin Vuicca's service station in San Mateo, tried to save him from prison by stating that a man named "Walker" was with them on the robbery, and that they later "picked up" McKnight.

The two men were brought from San Quentin to testify.

Belmont Acts to Aid Unemployed; Plans Outlined

BELMONT, Nov. 17.—At the city council meeting last evening, R. J. Koshland, of the unemployment relief executive committee of San Mateo county, outlined the plans of the committee.

Belmont's quota of the county's $350,000 relief bonds was estimated at approximately $3300. The improvement work outlined to be accomplished in Belmont, includes widening of Middle and South roads; clearing gutters throughout the town; rocking shoulders on Sixth avenue; laying sidewalks on El Camino Real from Ralston avenue to the postoffice building; laying sidewalks on the north side of Ralston boulevard to the entrance of the Notre Dame convent; grading and paving the south side of Ralston boulevard.

The city council will act as a general relief committee, with Mayor Chris L. Jordan as chairman, and Charles H. Prior as publicity chairman.

Mayor Jordan was also appointed to purchase a truck to be used for city work, the price of which is not to exceed $500. W. W. Hendricks, city engineer, was authorized to purchase picks and shovels for the city's work.

On Monday morning 20 of Belmont's 42 unemployed will be put to work on the initial improvement plan. All men and women out of employment have been urged to register with the local committee and the county committee. Up to the present time only one woman has registered.

Times-Gazette Editor Thanked By Relief Group

The following letter has been received from the County Committee on Unemployment Relief by the Times-Gazette editor, thanking him for aid given:

November 14, 1932.

Dennis O'Keefe,
Editor, Redwood City
Times-Gazette,
Redwood City, Calif.
Dear Mr. O'Keefe:

May I take this opportunity of conveying to you on behalf of the Citizens' Committee for the Work Relief Bonds, our very sincere appreciation for the generous publicity you gave the issue during the campaign just concluded so satisfactorily.

The support of the press was certainly a potent factor in the gratifying result, and the Times-Gazette was most effective in its presentation of the issue both in the news and editorial columns.

Again with thanks,

Sincerely yours,
SAM D. MERK,
Chairman,
Citizens' Committee

Road Closing Put Over One Month

Application of the Mackay Radio Company to abandon a short road leading into the John Meyn ranch on the coastside near Lobitas was put over to December 19 by the supervisors today.

Miss Elinor Falvey, counsel for the telegraph company, said no agreement was reached at a meeting of the planning commission Thursday.

STUDIES NATIVES

Gilbert Wright, son of Harold Bell Wright, acquired a good tan and considerable first-hand information for story material during the several months he browsed about in South and Central America. He is shown upon his return to Los Angeles on the Santa Teresa.

LOCAL FIRM GETS WORK AT AIR BASE

The Navy Department in Washington yesterday awarded a $109,220 contract for construction of roads, sidewalks and a storm water drainage system at the naval air station at Sunnyvale to the Peninsula Paving Company of San Francisco and Redwood City.

Details of the work will probably be handled from the Redwood City yard, B. H. Tanner, in charge here, said today. Except for the employment of a small crew of experienced former employes of the plant, the project will not materially affect the local yard, it is said.

The actual paving at the air station will perhaps not get underway before spring, unless there is an exceptionally mild winter. The first work to be done will be the construction of the storm drainage system.

Concrete curbs and gutters, and sidewalks will next engage the attention of the firm, to be followed with the laying of macadam pavements. Cement for the project will probably come from the Pacific Portland Cement Company plant here, it was said.

The Peninsula Paving Company's plant here was opened about October 1 under the renewed activity shown in the building and construction lines.

Congregational Church Planning Special Service

The "Giving Thanksgiving" service of the First Congregational Church is set for this coming Sunday, November 20, according to general chairman John Gill.

The service is dedicated to Thanksgiving Day assistance for the needy, sick and unfortunate of the comunity, and every man, woman and child attending church that morning will not only bring some article of food for that purpose but will also "pay admission" with an apple or an orange.

All these offerings are to be stacked around the altar during a solemn processional of consecration, preceding the service and sermon, which is based upon the appropriate text: "Silver and gold have I none, but such as I have give I unto thee."

Reverend Norman W. Pendleton who has presided over similar services in other churches will be in the pulpit.

Young Holt Sues For Auto Hurts

Leonard Holt, 19, son of Charles H. Holt, Emerald Lake and San Francisco realtor, has sued for $26,824 damages against the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for injuries incurred in an automobile-truck collision nearly two years ago. The senior Holt filed the suit.

F. J. Freygang and Duncan Cameron, who had charge of the company's truck, are named as defendants.

The accident happened on January 1, 1931, at the San Francisco county line on the Bayshore highway. Young Holt incurred a dislocation of the right hip, compound fracture of the right elbow, loss of three upper front teeth and one lower front tooth, injury to his eyes, and numerous contusions, abrasions and lacerations.

Greta Quick, who rode with Holt, won a $10,000 judgment in the courts here on June 4.

Guest in Auto Is Crash Plaintiff

Alice L. Anway of Mountain View has brought suit for $25,150 against Wesley Earl Thomas and C. H. Thomas, his father, of San Jose, for injuries incurred in an automobile accident in Menlo Park, April 9. She was riding as a guest in the car.

Miss Anway, 19, brings the suit through her father, William J. Anway. She lists her injuries as a contusion of the jaw, a severe hip bruise, a severe wrenching of the left knee, causing stiffness, and severe nervous shock. She was permanently scarred on the left cheek and chin, her complaint declares.

Attorney George K. Whitworth of Menlo Park, and the law firm of Redman, Alexander & Bacon, of San Francisco, filed the lawsuit.

Mrs. John Moore, who has been a resident of Redwood City for several years, has moved to Santa Rosa.

Schools Here Close Doors Due To "Flu"

Annual Vacation Is Advanced Due to Illness

Advancement of the annual Thanksgiving vacation period in the Redwood City elementary schools and at Sequoia Union High School to include the rest of this week as a precautionary move to prevent the possible spread of influenza among students and teachers was ordered today by school officials in announcing the schools were closed Tuesday afternoon until Monday, November 28.

Many Absences

Although the illness in nearly all cases is in a mild form, accompanied by sore throat, absences amounting to 16 per cent in the elementary schools and 25 per cent in the high school today resulted in the dismissal of classes with the expectation that all cases would be cleared up by a week from Monday.

In the elementary school district Superintendent John Gill reported 327 light cases or colds out of a total enrollment of 1950. Fumigation of rooms with strong disinfectants this week resulted in checking the epidemic and state board of health authorities yesterday informed Mr. Gill that closing of the schools would be unnecessary here.

Cultures Negative

Miss Cora Clute, public school nurse, reported that after examining 100 cultures none disclosed germs of a virulent type.

At a conference between Superintendent Gill and Principal A. C. Argo of the high school this morning, however, it was decided to close the schools because of the absence of 300 out of 1120 high school students. Several teachers have been affected.

Closing of the schools today added but three days to the regular Thanksgiving holidays and teachers' institute period. Institute sessions will be held at Burlingame Monday and in San Francisco Tuesday and Wednesday. Thursday and Friday of next week are the usual Thanksgiving holidays.

Basketball games scheduled between Sequoia and Palo Alto high schools here Friday evening were advanced to this afternoon, and a dance scheduled to follow the games has been cancelled.

Principal Argo announced that evening school classes would not be affected by dismissal of day classes.

Judge and Clerk Menaced During Insanity Hearing

Superior Judge George H. Buck and Court Clerk Homer Hargrave were saved from possible harm on Wednesday during a hearing into sanity of Louis G. Hendrickson, 37, of San Francisco, when the man suddenly bolted from his chair and lunged across the desk at them.

Deputy Sheriff Joseph Meeks, bailiff in Judge Buck's court, seized Hendrickson. The man mumbled that he was being "railroaded" during the testimony of Police Officer S. E. Douglass. Physicians in attendance declared Hendrickson should be committed, and the order was signed by Judge Buck.

Mother of Local Woman Dies

Mrs. Eline Beck, wife of the late Christie Beck, and mother of Mrs. H. C. Tuchsen of this city, passed away at her home in Oakland Sunday evening, November 13. Mrs. Beck came to Woodside from New York in 1882 where she resided until 1892, at which time she moved to Atherton, where Mr. Beck died in 1905. The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the James Crowe Co. chapel. Interment will be in Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

New Theater in R. C. Is Rumored

Details of a projected new theatre for Redwood City, which it is understood Kernan Robson, San Francisco, Redwood City and Marin county realtor is interested in, could not be learned from Robson today.

"Nothing as yet" can be revealed of the project, Robson said.

The tentatively selected site, it is rumored, is that across Montgomery street from the new Tribune building. Another site said to have been considered is that at the corner of Arch, Broadway and Brewster.

Who the lessees will be was guarded by Robson pending settlement of negotiations.

80,000 Will See 'Big Game' At Berkeley

BERKELEY, Nov. 18. — Nearly 80,000 spectators—one of the largest football crowds in the nation this year—will witness the California-Stanford "Big Game," blue ribbon classic of Pacific coast football, tomorrow at California Memorial Stadium.

While a few hundred tickets to the contest are still available to the general public in the first public sale since 1923, University of California athletic authorities are confident that at game time tomorrow the huge bowl in Strawberry canyon will be filled to capacity.

California Memorial Stadium has a capacity just short of 80,000 persons, including the rooting sections and extra bleacher seats. Stanford's stadium seats approximately 7,500 more spectators than the Berkeley bowl, so that attendance figures vary from year to year according to where the game is played. Following is an estimate, in round numbers, of attendance at the past four games:

1928—80,000 ..... at Berkeley
1929—87,500 ..... at Palo Alto
1930—80,00 ..... at Berkeley
1931—87,500 ..... at Palo Alto

In the years 1924-31 inclusive, "Big Game" tickets sales have been restricted to stadium subscribers, alumni, students and athletic letter winners, and in all of these years the supply of tickets was unequal to the demand. This year slightly more than 3,000 tickets have been available to the general public.

The sale of seats will continue this week until the supply is exhausted, according to Harry Davis, A.S.U.C. ticket manager. The price of the tickets is $5.50, including the federal amusement tax.

The funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home, and will be conducted by the Rev. C. H. Gatchell. Interment will follow at Alta Mesa Memorial Park.

New Barber Shop Opens On Broadway

San Jose Man Found Suicide In Automobile

The body of Wallace R. McClelland, aged about 32, salesman for a San Jose electrical appliance firm, was found in his coupe on the Skyline boulevard one mile south of the Salada Beach road at 8 o'clock today.

He had been poisoned by carbon monoxide fumes which poured into his closed car through a vacuum cleaner hose attached to the rear exhaust pipe.

The switch on the car was turned on, and the fuel had been exhausted. McClelland is believed to have taken his own life sometime during the night or early morning hours.

In the car, Deputy Coroner Luella Pepper of Daly City found a note adressed to Jean McClelland, 124 North Sixth street, San Jose, believed to be the dead man's wife. The note said, in substance:

"Jean Darling: I don't know whether you will get this or not. I am writing it in a library in San Francisco. I am nearly crazy and don't deserve to live. I am everything bad. Forget you ever knew me, but pray a little for me now and then. Goodbye and God bless you. W. R. M."

The note was written on the back of an envelope addressed to McClelland from San Jose.

In the car authorities found a partly emptied box of soda crackers, three cents and a cheap watch.

McClelland is believed by Deputy Coroner Pepper to have taken his own life because of financial reverses.

Major Hoffman Inspects Order Of Odd Fellows

Major A. J. Hoffman of San Francisco, gave the regular annual inspection of the peninsula order, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, at a meeting of that organization last Saturday evening in Odd Fellows Hall here.

Present at the inspection, besides members of the peninsula lodges, were: Major and Mrs. A. F. Baldwin of Los Angeles; Brigadier-General and Mrs. J. H. Wuetter of Oakland; Brigadier-General and Mrs. George Mitchell of San Francisco; Major and Mrs. T. V. Rietz of Oakland; Captain Sojbert of San Francisco; and Captain and Mrs. Scott of San Jose.

Major Baldwin is department commander of the order.

The "P. M." degree was bestowed upon Frank Nickerson of Palo Alto during the evening; and department and other officers made interesting talks, and complimented the canton upon the success of the drill team sent from here to the recent contest at Modesto. The team took second prize in a competition with seven other groups.

Following the inspection and business meeting, the members enjoyed refreshments served by the auxiliary, of which Mrs. William Hodge of Burlingame, is president.

Dissatisfied with prospects of further delay in the matter of street improvement in Redwood City, the city council has adopted a program calling for the expenditure of $30,000 in paving local streets.

Don Gaspar de Portola's Journey

Spain's first attempt to colonize Upper California was made in 1602 when Don Sebastian Viscayno was dispatched northward by the viceroy of Mexico, acting under the instructions of Philip III, on a voyage along the coast in three small vessels. Viscayno touched at San Diego and later discovered and entered the Bay of Monterey, which he named after the viceroy, Count de Monterey.

Following Viscayno's expedition, numerous trips were made to the northward from the peninsula of Lower California. But no real attempt was made to settle Upper California until one hundred and sixty seven years later, when Don Gaspar de Portola, accompanied by Father Junipera Serra, set out on their great journey and called the first halt at San Diego on July 1, 1769.

Before leaving San Diego, the members of the Portola expedition erected a large cross. A modern poet has since commemorated this with the following lines:

"Pious Portola, journeying by land,
Reared high a cross upon the heathen strand;
Then far away
Dragged his slow caravan to Monterey."

Simultaneosly with the setting out of Portola, two schooners, the San Jose and the Principe, were started north up the coast by Jose Galvez, the visitor general of New Spain, who was determined to occupy Upper California. The two expeditions were to meet at an appointed rendezvous at Monterey Bay, which had been described by Viscayno as a wonderful harbor.

After many difficulties, Portola's expedition reached the Salinas River and descended to its mouth, reaching the sea on October 1. Because of dense fog they failed to find Monterey harbor, but finally sighted Point Ano Nuevo. They became confused and pushed on north to Point Corral de Tierra, camping on the site of the present town of Half Moon Bay. The headland to the northwest was named Point Guardian Angel by Father Crespi, chaplain of the expedition, but the more worldly-minded members called it Mussel Point, because of the abundance of mussels found there. How it first came to be called Point Corral de Tierra is unknown.

Continuing north, the party ascended the steep slopes of Pedro Mountain and caught sight of Point Reyes, far to the northwest, of Mt. Tamalpais with the Bay of San Francisco under its lea, and of the Farallones to seaward. This confirmed the suspicions of the leaders of the party that they had passed Monterey Bay.

A halt was made and they decided to turn back. They pitched camp on the south slope of the mountain. And before starting on the return march, Sergeant Ortega and a small party were sent over the hills to the northeast to explore and report on the character of the country to be found there.

Ortega, as he looked from the heights of the Santa Moreno mountains down across the Peninsula foothills and the valley of the Bay, scanning with an eagle sweep the sites of the present cities from South San Francisco to Palo Alto, was the first white man, so far as we know, to view the bay side of San Mateo county.

On November 1, 1769, the "Canada Raymundo," the valley on the east side of the Santa Moren range, was first chronicled in the annals of the white race.

Ortega's party returned to camp on the third day and reported that they had found an immense arm of the sea, stretching far inland. Spurred to new hope by this discovery, Portola's entire party broke camp and set out over the hills to the northeastward. They did not realize the size of the Bay, and believed that they might skirt it and reach Point Reyes and the Port of San Francisco, which had been lost for one hundred and sixty years. On November 6 they camped on the bank of San Francisquito Creek, not far from the old home of Governor Leland Stanford on the present campus of Stanford University.

A small band of explorers was again sent out to the south toward San Jose. But they returned with the report that the Bay became wider and that it extended to an unknown distance southward. Apparently they did not want to continue north and did not try very hard to trace the bounds of the lower bay. A council of the leaders was held and it was voted to turn back. Their provisions were almost exhausted; scurvy and other sickness had already caused several deaths, and the native Indians of the region were showing signs of hostility.

(An account of the return journey will be given next week.)

Circuit Court of Appeals Issues Edict

Reversing a previous stand, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today decided that the Southern Pacific cannot build a spur track across the proposed Western Pacific right of way near Leslie station, San Mateo, it has been reported from San Francisco.

On February 9, 1931, the court dismissed an injunction granted to the Western Pacific by which the Southern Pacific won the right to complete the spur it had hastily thrown up over night.

On May 26, 1931, it changed its mind and agreed to "review" the case, which resulted in today's decision.

The Western Pacific held the spur served no useful purpose and was only to embarrass the new peninsula line.

Trial of Charles C. McKnight, 49, of San Francisco, on a charge of robbing a San Mateo oil station, was underway before Superior Judge Franklin Swart this afternoon. The state rested its case before noon, but the defense delayed the trial in asking to have McKnight's two asserted companions brought from San Quentin. The first trial ended in a conviction, but a woman juror charged she had been coerced.

❖ Woodside ❖

One may listen to the stories of John Kelley, the McArthur boys and other old-timers and, being in a credulous frame of mind, accept their assurance that Woodside was once a sportman's paradise. But whatever else Woodside may have gained in the intervening years it has lost its distinction as a place where game abounds. The opening of the quail season still stirs the hunting instinct in the heart of youth but the game bag remains empty. One well organized hunting party consisting of three men, two dogs and a veritable arsenal of firearms returned this week after twelve hours in the brush with a total bag of one quail.

The diptheria scare that was wished upon Woodside a couple of weeks ago has entirely subsided without a single case of the disease being reported. The jail doors have swung open, the quarantine signs have been taken down and burned in righteous wrath, school attendance has become normal and the community is at peace once more.

We shall not have the pleasure of standing outside the fence and watching the big red Stanford team preparing for the annual game this year. For many years past the Stanford team has spent the week before the game resting up in the redwood fastnesses of the Family Farm at Portola. In this year of grace, 1932, however, they will stay at the campus until the hour to take their bus to the Memorial Stadium at Berkeley.

In those years when the big game takes place on the Stanford field, Woodside homes are thrown open to visiting enthusiasts and after the game many parties are given to celebrate victory or drown the sting of defeat. With the game in Berkeley this year the homes of our greatest entertainers will remain in darkness.

Two card parties have been scheduled to take place at the school auditorium, one given by the Woodside Gardeners' Association on this Friday evening and one to be given by the Parent-Teacher Association on the evening of November 2.

The executive council of the Parent-Teacher Association was entertained on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Leland John, the association's president.

Miss Helen Freeland, daughter of Dr. Freeland, head of the department of education at San Jose State College, is doing her practice teaching at Portola School. Miss Ernestine Storti of Redwood City is substituting for Miss Dorothy Vaughn during her illness.

A team from the Woodside Fire Department entered the competitive drill held at Lomita Park on Tuesday night, and although it won no prizes it made a gallant showing.

County Fire Warden Bert Werder, who was in another part of the mountain section, and the county fire warden's truck, which was being used in fighting a fire on the Rolph ranch, arrived on the scene later.

The barn was already a mass of flames when the Woodside department arrived, and efforts were centered on keeping the blaze from spreading.

Menlo Park

On Sunday, November 13, in Golden Gate Park, Tenth avenue and Fulton street entrance, an 18-ton silver granite boulder with the names of the San Francisco hero dead of the World War inscribed, was dedicated under the auspices of the San Francisco chapter of Gold Star Mothers of America. This boulder was placed there to honor the memory of 814 sons, and 13 daughters who died during the World War.

The dedication culminated the work of the late Leah H. Davies, past president and organizer of the San Francisco Gold Star Mother organization, who also initiated the Heroes' Grove project (where this boulder stands) in 1929.

The speaker of the day was Dr. Albert Carlton, past commander of the American Legion. Other speakers were Mrs. Emily Andrews, president of the San Francisco chapter, Gold Star Mothers of America; Hon. Angelo Rossi, mayor of San Francisco; Hon. Emmet J. Hayden, Capt. Duncan Matheson, Harold J. Boyd, president United Veterans' Council; George J. Kelly, commander of San Francisco chapter Disabled America World War Veterans.

Prayers were offered by Rev. Robert Ritchie, chaplain U. S. Army, and Rev. Thorton Miller, chaplain U. S. Navy.

On the music program was the California Quartette, Mrs. Anna Nettleman, vocalist, and our local girl, Viola M. Maysenhalder sang selections, "There Is No Death" and "Trees." She was accompanied by Mrs. Inez Carolla. Band music by the San Francisco Municipal Band with Phil Sappro.

The boulder was unveiled by the Army and Navy who furnished Taps, bugle call and rifle squad.

Two local Gold Star Mothers have their sons' names on the boulder. The name of Henry Curtis White, son of Mrs. M. R. Maysenhalder, and the name of John Eberle, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Eberle.

A cleaning and dyeing establishment has located in the O'Keefe building, occupying the quarters formerly rented by the Safety Electric Works.

Many good bags of ducks have been brought to town by local hunters during the week. Hunters complain of the few birds on the local marshes. This is due to the scarcity of rain and storms. But few quail are seen in the foothills, where years ago they were abundant.

There are a great number of sick people in town, due, perhaps to the lack of rain. There are some talks of closing the schools until the epidemic of flu has passed. The doctors predict it will take ten days before the sickness subsides.

Ewing Bone, older son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Bone of Menlo Park, passed the week-end at the family home. He is the eighth grade director of athletics at Pixley.

Miss Beatrice Hamilton of Bakersfield was also a guest at the Bone home over the week-end. The family recently entertained the Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Linn of Walnut Creek. Mr. Linn is pastor of the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church.

The Guild of Trinity Episcopal Church, Menlo Park, met Monday at the home of Mrs. C. E. Aldwell in Atherton. Discussion of the book, "Civilizing Ourselves," was led by Mrs. Neal Townsley Childs. Mrs. Ross Cox and Mrs. E. G. Martin were assistint hostesses. The next meeting will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the parish house.

Senator S. M. Shortridge will depart for Washington tomorrow, stopping en route for a few days. Mr. Shortridge has some important work on committees to perform before the session starts in December. After March fourth, Mr. Shortridge will return to California and open a law office in San Francisco. He is considered one of the ablest attorneys in the state and no doubt will soon build up a large practice.

About one hundred men, constituting the unemployed of Menlo Park, will be put to work at Atherton digging and cleaning the big ditch that runs from Las Lomitas to the bay, through the city of Atherton. This number of men will probably exhaust the list of unemployed men in Menlo Park.

Postmaster B. Larrecou's commission will not expire for nearly two years, so he is not worrying for the present, at least. Many names are mentioned for his successor.

A Thanksgiving food sale will be held by the Menlo Park branch of the National Council of Catholic Women on Tuesday, November 22, at 10 a. m. in the Murray building on Santa Cruz avenue.

IT COSTS LESS TO KEEP THEM WELL

when your home is heated with Natural Gas

Women used to dread rainy days! When the weather kept the children indoors they were bound to become restless, playing about the house first in warm rooms then in cold. It was too much to expect of a busy mother to keep up a furnace-fire that gave whole-house warmth. But that was before Controlled Gas heating was available.

Today there is no excuse for part of the house being cold and part of it warm. Today there is no need either for bothersome fire-tending. Controlled Heat by Natural Gas is a truly carefree system of househeating that assures even "Comfort Zone" warmth in every room, regardless of the weather. Clean, quick-acting heat flows from Natural Gas heating equipment at a finger's touch on an electric button, key or automatic thermostat.

Once Controlled Heat was labelled with a high-cost price tag. Only the wealthy could afford it. Today, the low cost of Natural Gas heating equipment makes Controlled Heat available to thousands who have always wanted it but thought they could not afford it. Investigate this modern Natural Gas heating equipment at your local dealer's store or at the P. G. and E. Do it today—right now.

Approximately 100 stands of colors lined the walls of the auditorium, while department and national officers addressed the gathering.

Fashion No Longer Is Requiring Exact Period Coincidence

By ALMA ARCHER

Nothing like a good reforced snob. When modern decoration made its first appearances, some of the most substantually silly snobs in the world were brought to light. Unless furniture had holes in it the size of Mammoth Cave, indicating rare old age, these snobbish people couldn't be annoyed. But decorators have ended this depression by teaching society how to mix periods and modern things all under the same roof. The new modern hand-made flat silverware in cactus design harmoniously performs its duty when used on an early American dining table, and a modern engraved crystal vase with a parachute jumper on one side, holds an old-fashioned bouquet with much the same interest as some second empire number from the Louvre. You'll even find turkey perfectly satisfactory riding in on Spode bone china of the Victorian era, with 1932 white corduroy drapes at the window, for the white china perfectly lends itself to modern white decoration.

Are You Hesitating About Buying the Things You Need and Can Really Afford?

Does timidity or fear of criticism keep you from doing a real service to the country and to the unemployed?

It is true that many people have been hard hit by the depression and are struggling to make both ends meet. We all know it is difficult for them to make many purchases beyond the bare needs of existence.

There are many thousands of men and women, however, who are still receiving a fair income and who could be of tremendous help in aiding the business revival. All you need to do is to buy the things you need and can actually afford.

That doesn't mean that you should buy extravagantly, wastefully, or recklessly. It simply means buying what you need when you need it in a normal, natural way.

Have you been hesitating about buying because of timidity or a fear that you might be criticized? Exactly the reverse should be true.

You are doing a real service to the country, to the unemployed and to yourself when you purchase the things you need and can afford to buy. Every purchase that you make now—large or small—helps to create work and wages for those less fortunate than yourself.

When you buy a new dress or a new pair of shoes or a new radio or a new refrigerator or a new car you help to give work and wages to people in many sections of the country. When you have the house repainted, rooms repapered or the roof fixed you directly assist other deserving workmen—perhaps in your very neighborhood.

Nothing you could possibly do for those who need help could be more helpful or resultful than this. Sincere, honest, deserving people everywhere would rather have work than charity.

That's the big, broad humanitarian side of it. The other side is what it means to you personally to buy the things you need and can afford to purchase now. Never were such bargains available. Never were prices so low.

But price isn't everything. Today, as always, quality is the important thing to look for. It pays to buy standard, trade-marked merchandise from firms you can depend on. You're almost always disappointed when you experiment with some unknown brand just because it is cheap.

From day to day in this newspaper are advertisements featuring many unusual values. Read them and take advantage of the opportunities they offer. Business revival will be speeded up if people will again buy the useful, necessary things they need and can afford to purchase.

people opened new accounts with BANK of AMERICA
Since March 1932

Here is an outstanding example of statewide teamwork on the part of alert, thinking people—a response to Bank of America's appeal to put spare dollars to work for all California.

The vast sum of money deposited by our new customers has played an important part in financing California industries and also various community projects.

Open a back-to-good-times account in this or any other time-tested bank.

The total number of people opening new accounts in Bank of America since March, 1932, would populate a city considerably larger than San Diego—fourth city of California.
